Maintaining Wellness at Home

During the patient's stay at our center, therapists will provide training and tips on how to continue the rehabilitation and strengthening process at home. Specially trained nurses give instruction on how to successfully manage any ongoing medical needs as part of this transition. Outpatient therapy services may also be available to assist in maintaining the patient's functionality.

Our staff educates patients on community resources available to them, as well as safety considerations after they return home. This home wellness plan provides comfort to the patient and instills confidence that health and well-being will be maintained. The Extend to Home Program staff follow up regularly with patients to see if any additional assistance is needed or if the patient requires further treatment after discharge.
